

Call for Papers for
The University of Oxford's 30th Annual Graduate Philosophy Conference

University of Oxford 13th-14th November 2026

We invite submissions from all graduate students working in philosophy for the 30th Annual Oxford Philosophy Graduate Conference, to be held on the 13th-14th November 2026 at the University of Oxford.

Papers can be on any topic in philosophy. We aim to represent a broad range of philosophical debates and traditions in our final selection, across theoretical philosophy, practical philosophy, and the history of philosophy.

Each selected graduate student will be asked to present their paper in a 30-40 minute presentation. Each presentation will be followed by a response, typically from a member of the Oxford Philosophy Faculty.

We are also delighted to announce our keynote speakers for this year's conference:

David Chalmers (New York University),
Monima Chadha (University of Oxford),
Rob Simpson (University College London),

In addition,
Adrian Moore (University of Oxford) will be holding a workshop on how to publish in philosophy journals.

Eligibility: All current graduate students in philosophy are eligible to apply, except those studying at the University of Oxford at the time of the conference.

We particularly encourage submissions from philosophers from underrepresented groups in philosophy.

Submission details:

The submission deadline is 1st May, 2026 at 12:00 pm / noon (Greenwich Time)

All papers and abstracts should be submitted using this form.

Your abstract should be no more than 300 words in length. Your paper should be no more than 3000 words in length, including footnotes, excluding references. Abstracts and papers must be suitable for blind review, i.e., they must not contain any information that identifies the author or their institutional affiliation.

For more details, see: <https://www.philosophy.ox.ac.uk/oxford-philosophy-graduate-conference>

If you have any questions, feel free to email gradconf@philosophy.ox.ac.uk

We look forward to your submission.
